Introduction

THIS BOOK, representing, as it does, many hours of earnest work, the expenditure of much time, and patient delving into all of the genealogical records to be found at the present time bearing upon this subject, is dedicated to my son, Richard Losee Harrington.

I trust his life may be one of usefulness to society, and that the records of his life's work may reflect credit upon the Harrington family in general and upon himself and the writer of these few introductory remarks in particular.

EUGENE W. HARRINGTON.

Dated, Buffalo, New York,
November 1st, 1907.

Genealogical Record of the Harrington Family in America,

I

UST TWENTY-TWO years from the time when the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth—to wit—in the year 1642—Robert Harrington, an Englishman by birth, came to Watertown, Massachusetts.

Mr. Bond, in his History of Watertown, written in 1860, (to which I am indebted for much valuable information), speaks of Robert Harrington as a probable kinsman of Thomas Hastings, one of the very earliest settlers of Massachusetts, and a freeman of Watertown. He says: "His name is the last on the list of proprietors made out in 1642-44. He then owned a homestall given him by Thomas Hastings. This gift renders it probable that he was a kinsman of Deacon Hastings." In 1649 he married Susanna George, who was born in 1632, and died July 6th, 1694. He died May 17th, 1707. On the 27th of May, 1663, Robert Harrington was admitted a freeman, and was thereafter chosen as selectman of Watertown for the years 1679, 81, 82, 83, 85, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, and the year 1700. It will thus be seen that he took an active interest in the affairs of the town in which he lived and died, and that no better evidence can be obtained as to the value of his services than is shown by the fact of his having been so continuously chosen selectman for almost twenty years prior to his death. From all of the data, it is quite certain that Robert Harrington, when he came to Watertown, was a poor man, and that the first property which he owned was that given to him by Thomas Hastings about the year 1644. At the time of his death, he was possessed of a considerable estate, and the inventory filed with his will shows him to be the owner of six hundred forty-two and one half acres of land; the appraised value of which is seven hundred seventeen pounds. In his will, which is dated January 1st, 1704, he mentions his sons John, Daniel, Benjamin, Samuel, Thomas, Edward (to whom he gave his homestead), and his daughters Susanna Beers, Mary Bemis, and Sarah Winship.

Mr. Bond mentioned the name of Richard Harrington, who lived there as early as 1643, and says that he has failed to discover any record of the marriage of Richard Harrington, or that he left any children him surviving. It may, therefore, be taken as reasonably certain that the Harrington family of America started with Robert Harrington of Watertown as the original ancestor.

Mr. Hudson, in his History of Lexington, also says: "The name of Harrington is found in almost every town in New England, and it is probable that most, if not all of them, descended from, or, at least, were relatives of, Robert Harrington of Watertown. He had a numerous family, who were widely dispersed. He came from England, where many of his children were born."

As Hudson's History of Lexington was written eight years after Dr. Bond's History of Watertown, he was enabled to find many records of our family, showing its relation to the early history of the Massachusetts Bay Colony and the State of Massachusetts, which Dr. Bond was, perhaps, unable to secure.

In addition to making reference to particular members of the various branches of the Harrington family, I have concluded that it is best to furnish a complete record of the family, as shown by the genealogical register of Mr. Hudson and Dr. Bond, and to supplement this record with the data which I have been able to obtain as a result of most patient research, all of which, though in some instances disconnected, will afford every member of this family some opportunity, at least, of discovering with reasonable certainty their antecedents, and furnish them a basis from which to start in the compilation of personal family records for the guidance of future generations.

- 1 GEORGE HARRINGTON, from whom our Lexington Harrington descended, was probably a son or brother of Robert. He married Susanna ———, and had, as was common in those days, a large family of thirteen children. He resided in Watertown. Two of his grandchildren settled in Lexington.
- 1 2 SUSANNA, born August 18, 1649; married February 9, 1661, John Cutting.
- 3 JOHN, born August 24, 1651; died August 24, 1741.
- 4 ROBERT, born August 31, 1653; probably died young.
- 5 GEORGE, born November 24, 1655. He belonged to Captain Wadsworth's company, and was killed by the Indians at Lancaster, 1675.
- 6 DANIEL, born November 1, 1657; admitted freeman 1690.
- 7 JOSEPH, born December 28, 1659, admitted freeman 1690.
- 8 BENJAMIN, born June 26, 1662; died 1724.
- 9 MARY, born January 12, 1664; married about 1680, John Bemis, and had fourteen children.
- 10 THOMAS, born April 20, 1665; admitted freeman 1690.
- 11 SAMUEL, born December 18, 1666.
- 12 EDWARD, born March 2, 1669.
- 13 SARAH, born March 10, 1671; married November 24, 1687, Joseph Winship, of Cambridge.
- 14 DAVID, born June 1, 1673; died March 11, 1675.

- 1    3    JOHN HARRINGTON, married November 17, 1681, Hannah Winter, daughter of John Winter, Jr., of Watertown, but afterwards of Cambridge Farms. She died July 17, 1741, and he died August 24, 1741, in that part of Watertown now Waltham.
- 3    15    HANNAH, born August 9, 1682; married April 29, 1703, Eleazer Hammond, of Newton.
- 16    JOHN, born October, 1684; married April 12, 1705, Elizabeth Cutter, of Cambridge Farms.
- 17    MARY, born May 11, 1687; married March 8, 1709, Thomas Hammond.
- 18    LYDIA, baptized March 2, 1690.
- 19    JAMES, baptized April 2, 1695.
- 19½    PATIENCE, baptized October 10, 1697.

- 1    6    DANIEL HARRINGTON, married October 18, 1681, Sarah Whitney. She died June 8, 1720, and he married, second, October 25, 1720, Elizabeth, widow of Captain Benjamin Garfield, and daughter of Mathew and Anna Bridge, of Cambridge.
- 6    20    DANIEL, born February 24, 1684; died young.
- 21    ROBERT, born July 2, 1686; married November 15, 1711, Anna Harrington.
- 22    DANIEL, born July 10, 1687.
- 23    JONATHAN, born March 21, 1690; married
         February 28, 1724, Elizabeth Bigelow.
- 24    JOSEPH, born February 4, 1691.
- 25    SARAH, born October 28, 1693; married June 11, 1711, Nathaniel Livermore.

3 16 JOHN HARRINGTON, married April 12, 1705, Elizabeth Cutter, then of Cambridge Farms, but now of Lexington, where he settled. His name appears upon our records for the first time in 1713, when John Harrington appeared before the selectmen, and offered on certain conditions to give the right of way across his land. His residence must have been easterly of Hancock Hill, near the residence of the late Joseph Fiske. He died November 29, 1750. Some articles in the inventory of his estate show the fashions of the day—"Leather britches, a new dark wig, sundry old wiggs, yarn leggins, pistols, warming pan, wooden plates."

- 16 26 RICHARD, born September 26, 1707.
27 MOSES, born January 6, 1710, died January 11, 1787.
28 HENRY, born January 8, 1712.
29 JOHN, born March 22, 1714; died August 29, 1750.
30 HANNAH, baptized in Watertown, February 20, 1715.
31 WILLIAM, born February 4, 1717; died September 28, 1717.
32 ABIGAIL, born December 4, 1718; married March 1, 1738, John Palls, of Townsend.
33 CALEB, born July 13, 1721; died 1747.

6 21 ROBERT HARRINGTON married November 15, 1711, Anna Harrington, of Watertown, daughter of Samuel and Grace Harrington. He was a blacksmith, and settled in Lexington on the main street, near the present residence of P. P. Pierce. His name first appears upon our church records in 1712, when Samuel Harrington was baptized, his father Robert owning the covenant. He was chosen a fence viewer in 1713, so he must have been a permanent resident at that time. He died February 5, 1774, aged 89, and she died October 16, 1777, aged 85. He was cousin to John, who came to Lexington from Watertown about the same time. These two were the ancestors of the numerous family of Harringtons which afterwards appear on our records.

21 34 SAMUEL, born July 28, 1712; died September 29, 1712.

35 SAMUEL, born April 15, 1714.

36 ANNA, born June 2, and baptized in Watertown, June 10, 1716. She married her cousin, Rev. Timothy Harrington. He was settled at Swanzey, N. H. That town was destroyed by the Indians, April 2, 1747, and he was the next year settled at Lancaster, Mass., where he died May 17, 1778.

37 ROBERT, born April 26, 1719; married Abigail Mason.

38 JONATHAN, born May 21, 1723.

39 GRACE, baptized December 4, 1729; died April 10, 1759, unmarried.

16 26 RICHARD HARRINGTON married Abigail ———. He resided on Adams Street, near where George F. Chapman now resides.

- 26 40 EBENEZER, born March 16, 1733; probably died young.
 41 THANKFUL, born January 16, 1734; died unmarried.
 42 THADDEUS, born September 9, 1736. Enrolled in Captain Parker's Company, 1775.
 43 HANNAH, born March 8, 1738.
 44 EPHRAIM, born March 2, 1739; died October 20, 1742.
 45 NATHAN, born December 25, 1740.
 46 EBENEZER, born March 16, 1743.
 47 SOLOMON, born January 27, 1746; died November 12, 1750.
 48 STEPHEN, born May 23, 1748.
 49 SIMEON, born July 8, 1750.
 50 SETH, born October 30, 1752.
 51 ABIGAIL, born August 9, 1754.

- 16 27 MOSES HARRINGTON married Martha ———, who was admitted to the church June 2, 1734. We learn by tradition that he had several children, though the records are silent upon the subject. He died January 11, 1787. It is said that he had Moses, Betsey, and Caleb, the latter of whom was the Caleb Harrington who was killed on the Common on the 19th of April, 1775. He is said to have been about twenty-five years of age at the time of his death. Betsey married first, Ebenezer White, and, second, Thomas Cutler.

- 16 28 HENRY HARRINGTON married June 4, 1735, Sarah Laughton, daughter of Deacon John and Sarah Laughton. She died in childbed, May 16, 1760, and he married, second, Abigail ———, the widow of Ebenezer Blodgett. She lived to a great age, and was a woman of great peculiarities. Henry Harrington resided under the hill, near the residence of Mr. Hutchinson. He died December 25, 1791, aged 80; she died January 23, 1820, aged 94.
- 28 52 SARAH, born September 17, 1735; married May 28, 1755, Thomas Winship.
- 53 HENRY, born August 27, 1737; married October 25, 1759, Ruth Blodgett.

- 62 EBENEZER, born May 15, 1760; married September 4, 1788, Mrs. Sarah Johnson.

- 21 37 ROBERT HARRINGTON married Abigail Mason, daughter of Daniel and Experience Mason, of Newton. They were admitted to the church in Lexington, August 11, 1745. She died August 25, 1778, aged 57, and he married April 16, 1781, widow Chloe Trask. He died May 30, 1793, aged 74. He filled many town offices, and bore the dignified title of Ensign Harrington. He was one of the selectmen in 1752, and was re-elected to that station some twelve or fourteen years, and was chairman of the board in the eventful period of the Revolution, when many important duties devolved upon him. He was also many years a magistrate, and represented the town four years in the General Court.
- 37 63 THADDEUS, born September 9, 1736; married September 20, 1764, Lydia Porter, of Worcester.
- 64 DANIEL, born May 25, 1739; married Anna Munroe.
- 65 ANNARITTE, baptized August 12, 1744; probably died young.
- 66 BETTY, born May 23, 1745; died October 27, 1745.
- 67 ELIZABETH, born September 6, 1747; married Samuel Smith.
- 68 ABIGAIL, born December 23, 1749; died young.
- 69 ABIGAIL, born August 9, 1754; married Dr. Davis Fiske.
- 70 ABIJAH, born February 7, 1761; married first, Polly Raymond; and, second, widow Locke.

21 38 JONATHAN HARRINGTON married August 1, 1750, Mrs. Abigail Dunster. She died June 30, 1776, and he married second, Mrs. Lydia Mulliken, widow of Nathaniel Mulliken. He died September 14, 1809, aged 87; and she died November 13, 1783, aged 57. He was several years selectman, and was one of the committee of correspondence in 1778, in the midst of the Revolution. He was a true son of liberty, and was found on the 19th of April at the post of danger.

He served in the French War in 1762. Tradition says he had three daughters, but there is no record of their birth. Sally Harrington, one of them, married December 30, 1793, Edward Blackington, of Cambridge.

- 54 86 JOSEPH, born February 16, 1770; married Lucy Russell.
 87 BENJAMIN, born May 4, 1772; married October 1, 1792, Elizabeth Frost, of West Cambridge, and moved to Bedford, where he died.
 88 JONATHAN, born October 27, 1777; married November 10, 1799, Ruth Britton, of Shrewsbury. He died June 9, 1821. They resided in Medford.

28 55 JOHN HARRINGTON married December 3, 1763, Mary Wootten, daughter of John Wootten, an Englishman. Captain Wootten was a ship-master, and made twenty-two voyages to Surinam. He was of Captain Parker's company, and met the British on the 19th of April. He was subsequently a lieutenant in the militia. He moved with his family to Deering, N. H., about 1783. His children, being young, left town with him.

55 89 ABIGAIL, born March 3, 1763; married 1781, William Munroe, Jr.

90 SARAH, born February 17, 1766.

91 JOHN, born February 1, 1770.

92 STEPHEN, born November 22, 1774.

37 70 ABIJAH HARRINGTON married April 21, 1784, Polly Raymond. She died February 27, 1822, and he married December 14, 1823, Mary Locke, widow of Asa B. Locke. He died without issue, December 31, 1852, aged 91. Though Abijah Harrington was too young (being but 13 years of age) to take part in the events of the memorable 19th of April, 1775, he was attracted by the march of the king's troops, and came to the Common immediately after their departure for Concord, and saw in the road where the British troops stood at the time of the firing, a quantity of blood upon the ground, and so is a good witness that the fire of the British was returned, and with effect, by the Americans.

38 74 JONATHAN HARRINGTON married November 14, 1782, Sally Banks. She died July 28, 1847, aged 85.

Harrington (Herrington, Errington, Arrington)

ROBERT HARRINGTON. His name is the last on the list of proprietors, made out 1642-44. He then owned a homestead, "given him by Thomas Hastings." This gift renders it probable that he was a kinsman of Deacon Hastings. He was admitted freeman May 27, 1663, and he married October 1, 1649 (?48), Susanna George, born 1632, who died July 6, 1694, and he died May 7, 1707. In his will dated January 1, 1704-5 (the day before the third marriage of his daughter Susanna), he mentions his sons John, Daniel, Benjamin, Samuel, Thomas, Edward (his "youngest son," to whom he gave his homestead), and daughters, Susanna Beers, Mary Bemis, Sarah Winship; Joseph, son of "my son Joseph, deceased," and daughter-in-law Joanna Ward, late wife of his son Joseph. His inventory mentions sixteen lots of land, amounting to 642½ acres, and appraised at £717. December 24, 1684, he bought of Jeremiah Dummer, a goldsmith, of Boston, and Anna, his wife, for £90, the west or southwest half (250 acres) of the Oldham Farm, where some of his descendants have continued to reside until the present time. It was bounded west by Joseph Garfield; north by Richard Cutting, widow Sarah Fiske, and said

of Watertown

Garfield; east by Abraham Gale and John Gale; south by Charles River. September 28, 1685, he gave to his son Joseph 55 acres of land, which he had bought of Simon Coolidge, January 29, 1679-80, which he (S. C.) had bought of Simon Stone, and which he (S. S.) had bought of the widow and heirs of the Reverend Henry Green, to whom it had been granted by the town. It is very probable that all the families of the name of Harrington in New England are descended from Robert, of Watertown. They are very numerous and widely dispersed. There was a Richard Harrington, or Arrington, of Charlestown, in 1643; but I have not discovered that he left any descendants bearing his name, or that he was related to Robert.

Having provided in the foregoing pages a full and complete genealogical record of the family from the original ancestor, Robert Harrington, up to the present time, it will, perhaps, be somewhat interesting to show the connection of the Harrington family with the history of our country, and to point out those who have taken conspicuous part in public affairs, or whose names receive particular mention by reason of some particular fact that has come to light during the patient research of the writer into the subject under consideration.

Reference has already been made to Robert Harrington, as the original ancestor, and of the position which he occupied as selectman of the town of Watertown for so many years.

The next ones in line whom we consider worthy of particular mention are Henry Harrington of Lexington, known as No. 28 in the foregoing record, and Daniel Harrington, No. 64, who were prominent in the movement for liberty in 1776, and whose names were signed to the Massachusetts Bay Colony Declaration of Independence of that year.

In those days, it required courage to become publicly identified with a movement of this character, and when each of the men who signed that memorable document declared "Before God and the world, that they would be true to the cause of liberty and to each other," they were enrolling themselves as opposed to the government and the policy of the mother country; and, as such, were subjecting themselves to probable punishment upon the charge of treason to Great Britain's cause.

A facsimile of the signatures of that document is shown on the preceding page, as the same is found in the historical archives of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts this day.

All through the stirring times antedating the drafting and signing of the Declaration of Independence; in all the agitation that took place in the New England States, the name of Harrington is found prominently identified with, and is ever recorded as being loyal to, the cause of freedom and colonial independence.

On the Commons at Lexington, Massachusetts, today is a boulder, placed there as a monument to the "minutemen," who fought so gallantly under Captain Parker on the 19th of April, 1775, and inscribed thereon, are these words:

STAND YOUR GROUND. DON'T FIRE UNLESS
FIRED UPON; BUT IF THE BRITISH WANT WAR, LET IT BEGIN NOW.

These were the memorable words of Captain Parker, the leader of this gallant band of men; and a statue to his memory has been erected, and now stands at the head of the Lexington Commons.

In Captain Parker's company there were, all told, one hundred thirty men. Of this number, the record discloses a fact of which every member of this family of ours may well feel proud; to wit: That eleven members of that company were Harringtons. Among them were: Clerk Daniel Harrington, Thaddeus, Jonathan, Jonathan, Jr., John, Moses, William, Jeremiah, Thomas, Caleb, and Jonathan, 3d.

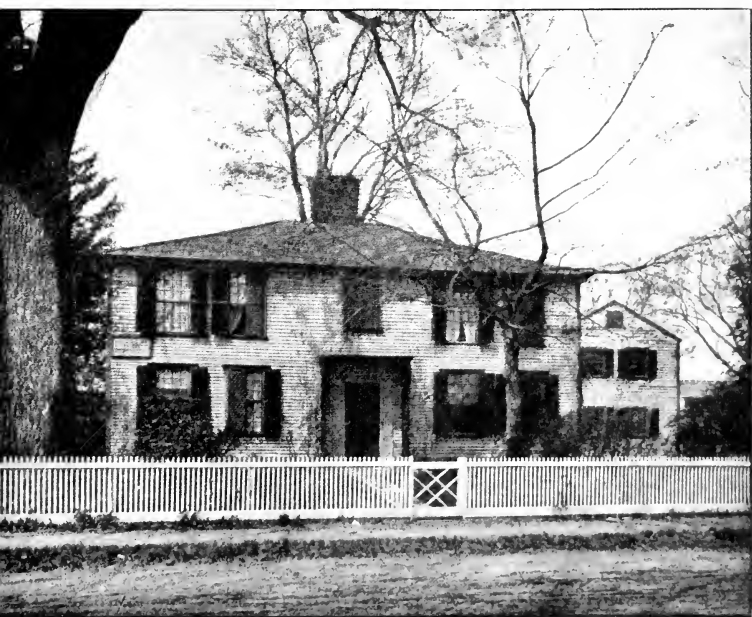

It was at this memorable Battle of Lexington, occurring on the morning of April 19th, 1775, the next morning after the famous ride of Paul Revere from Charlestown, that Jonathan and Caleb Harrington both lost their lives. In the Lexington Cemetery, which is located but a few hundred feet from the Lexington Commons, may be found today the graves of sixteen of our ancestors; and a visit to this peaceful spot cannot fail to fill the mind of every living member of our family with a feeling of righteous respect for the memory of those who are there buried.

The visitor to Lexington, who places himself in the hands of the guides, who are there ever ready to point out the many places of historical interest in and about this exceedingly historical spot, will be shown what is called the "Old Harrington House," standing just one side of the Commons; and among the picture postal cards that have been provided of these various points, none are more sought after than that of the home of Jonathan Harrington, the last survivor of the War of the Revolution, and a cut of which will be found on the following page.

That the patriotic impulses of Henry Harrington, the signer of the Massachusetts Bay Colony Declaration of Independence, were inherited by his sons, is amply demonstrated by the fact that five of them—to wit, Jeremiah, John, Moses, Jonathan, and Thomas, five brothers—stood shoulder to shoulder at the battle of April 19th, 1775, and continued to serve under Captain Parker for some time afterwards.

Jonathan Harrington, No. 74, born July 18, 1758, was scarcely sixteen years of age, at the time of the outbreak of hostilities at Lexington on the morning of April 19, 1775. He died March 27, 1854, at the very advanced age of 95 years, eight months and 18 days. Up to the time of his death, he related, with wonderful clearness, the stirring events of his earlier life. He said he was aroused early that morning by a cry from his mother, who said: "Jonathan, get up, the regulars are coming, and something must be done." Jonathan was a fifer. He arose, went to the place where the patriots were gathering, and was with the company on the approach of the British. He continued to participate in the events of the Revolutionary War, and was ever afterwards treated with much respect and attention by the whole community where he resided up to the time of his death.

The death of the last survivor of the Battle of Lexington produced a marked sensation in the whole community. The Governor ordered out the Davis Guards of Acton, and the Concord Artillery, to do escort duty at his interment. Such was the public feeling that General Jones invited his brigade to be present on the occasion, and several other companies, not belonging to the brigade volunteered—all anxious to show their regard to the memory of one who had come down from a generation of patriots, and had stood for many years as the sole surviving representative of the first battle of freedom in America. The Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, and the Honorable Council, and a great part of the legislature of the State of Massachusetts, which was then in session, honored the event by their presence. As Mr. Hudson says, and referring to the death of this patriot: "The spectacle was truly imposing." Following this, Mr. Hudson closes his reference to Jonathan Harrington and his life with the following remarks:

"The history of the world furnishes no case more striking or sublime than this! Thousands of persons of all ages and conditions in life, flock together from one common impulse, and with one general feeling! What motive actuated the vast concourse and brought them to Lexington at that time? The season of the year was uninviting, the traveling bad, and the day inclement; and everything external would seem to forbid any gathering of the people in large numbers in the open air,—but still they came. And for what purpose: Not to obtain any direct advantage personal to themselves—not to witness any feat of art, listen to any distinguished orator, or partake of a sumptuous feast—not to behold any distinguished lord or prince from a foreign country, or any celebrated statesman from our own—not to greet a living friend surrounded with wealth and splendor, or to follow in the funeral train of a deceased President or high officer of state. No—they came to worship at the shrine of Liberty—to show their respect to the memory of a humble and unpretending individual, who had stood for years the sole representative of that body of freemen who rallied for their country on the 19th of April, 1775.”

The records of the War and the Navy Departments show the participation of several Harringtons in the War of the Rebellion; and it would, indeed, be a pleasure to refer to each of them, did space permit.

Among them, however, are found the name of the writer's father, Andrew Benjamin Harrington, a lineal descendant of Thomas, No. 57, the son of Henry, No. 28, who was a member of the Twenty-fourth New York Cavalry and who served during the latter part of the war, and was present at Appomattox, when the great Confederate army under Lee laid down their arms and surrendered to General Grant on that beautiful morning in the spring of 1865.

Another one of this great family, who participated in that war for the abolition of slavery was Dr. Devillo W. Harrington, who died in the city of Buffalo, New York, in November, 1905. Dr. Harrington when a boy enlisted in the First New York Dragoons, served three years, and after the war took up the study of medicine. He located in Buffalo, where he acquired a lucrative practice for the period of about thirty-five years, accumulated a large property, and commanded the respect and admiration of all who knew him. He was well known as an exceedingly public-spirited citizen, and during the great G. A. R. encampment here in Buffalo, in 1897, he entertained at his own expense the surviving members of his entire regiment.

He has two brothers still living, one of whom, George Harrington, is one of the best and most prominently known citizens of Wyoming County in this state, where he has resided for many years.

So far as the writer has been able to ascertain, none of this line of Harringtons have left them surviving male children, so that upon the death of those who still survive, this branch of the Harrington family will become extinct.

Early in 1776, Thomas Harrington, No. 57, left Lexington, and moved into what is now the State of Connecticut. A year or so later he left Connecticut and took up his home in Chenango County in the State of New York. His wife was Lucy Perry, of Lexington, whom he married in 1748. There were born to Thomas Harrington and his wife nine children, namely: Elizabeth (who died in infancy), Benjamin, Solomon, William, Hezekiah, Ezekiel, Thankful, Polly, and Ann.

At the same time that Thomas Harrington came into Chenango County from Connecticut, John Harrington came to the same county from Vermont.

the age of eighty, Thomas W. Harrington is an exceedingly well preserved man, and tells, with great clearness, of his grandfather John on his father's side and his grandfather Thomas, on his mother's side.

We have here another instance of Harrington marrying Harrington, and there are many of such instances to be found in the record of the family as heretofore set forth in detail.

The father of Thomas W. Harrington, of Greene, N. Y., was Joshua Harrington, born in 1782. He married Thankful Harrington, daughter of Thomas and Lucy Perry. The father of Joshua was John Harrington, who came from Vermont, with two of his brothers, and settled in Chenango County; and the children of John Harrington were, Joshua, Polly, John, Hillamon, Rebecca, Eber, and David.

Thomas W. Harrington's wife was Betsey Hinman. Their children were Anice, born May 7, 1851, and who now lives in Oklahoma; Lida, born July 30, 1853, now living at Binghamton, N. Y.; Jane, born September 10, 1855, now residing at Greene, N. Y., and Edward, born August 19, 1860; died in Oklahoma, June 1, 1906; and, Alice, who died at Greene, N. Y., in 1871.

Little is known of the descendants of John Harrington, further than the information herein given. It is probable that their children and grandchildren are now to be found in Chenango County and the counties adjoining in the State of New York.

In Chenango County the name of Harrington is exceedingly well known, and our people have been closely identified with the history of this county. In 1804, Ezekiel Harrington, the great-grandfather of the writer, sold his homestead on the Chenango River to Benjamin Harrington, and a deed shows this transfer was put on record in the office of the county clerk of Chenango County at that time.

Adjoining the old homestead is a tract of land containing about two acres, which has been dedicated for cemetery purposes. In this cemetery may be found a headstone over the grave of Benjamin Harrington, showing that he was born in 1788 and died in the year 1866. He had a son, George Harrington, also buried in this peaceful spot, and the inscription on his headstone shows that he was born in 1827 and he died in 1901.

George Ralph Harrington, a grandson of Benjamin, now resides upon the farm where his grandfather lived and died, and is at this time the father of four children—one of whom, I trust, may continue to live in this beautiful spot to perpetuate the Harrington name in the Chenango Valley and retain the old homestead of his earlier ancestor.

One of the very pleasant recollections of the writer's life will ever be in the visit to the town of Greene in Chenango County on a beautiful afternoon in August, 1906, and the meeting there of Thomas W. Harrington, and the visit to the old Harrington homestead.

In this connection I wish also, and at this time, to make reference to the assistance rendered me by Charles W. Grey, assistant cashier of the Juliand Bank at Greene, N. Y.

Residing in the town of Greene may also be found Reade E. Harrington, Eugene A. Harrington, and other representatives of the writer's branch of the Harrington family; all of whom have been exceedingly kind in assisting me in establishing a complete record of our branch of the family.

Benjamin Harrington, born April 14th, 1788, married Mary Smith, August 26th, 1810. He died July 4th, 1866. His wife, Mary Smith, was born at Troy, Pa., October 4th, 1791, died June 12th, 1864. Their children were:

Cynthia Harrington, born July 12th, 1811; died April 2d, 1893.

Sally Harrington, born August 22d, 1813; died July 28th, 1837.

Mary A. Harrington, born April 17th, 1825; died April 8th, 1882.

Lydia Harrington, born February 6th, 1817; died May 23d, 1888.

William S. Harrington, born June 8th, 1819; died September 24th, 1900.

Francis B. Harrington, born March 5th, 1821; died September 30th, 1846.

Rosamond Harrington, born December 28th, 1822; died June 18th, 1824.

George N. Harrington, born June 8th, 1827; died June 21st, 1901.

Salphronius Harrington, born March 2d, 1829; died December 18th, 1900.

Sally Harrington was married to Ira French of Castle Creek, N. Y., May 21st, 1834. They had one son, Dwight L. French, who was born in 1835; studied law, and is now living in Lisle, Broome County, N. Y.

Another son, Dr. Salphronius French, was born in 1837, and is now living in Amsterdam, N. Y.

Dr. French was educated at Binghamton Academy, and studied medicine with his uncle, Dr. S. H. French, at Lisle, N. Y., in 1857. He attended medical college in New York City for one year and graduated from the Albany Medical College in 1859. From 1860 to 1862 he was engaged in the practice of his profession with his uncle at Lisle, N. Y., and in July of the latter year he became a member of the One Hundred and Ninth New York Volunteers as assistant surgeon, with the rank of first lieutenant. He served until 1864, when he was honorably discharged from the service because of ill health.

In 1871 he moved to Amsterdam, N. Y., where he now resides. Dr. French has taken a prominent part in the affairs of the town in which he has lived for so many years, being president of the Amsterdam Savings Bank and of the Free Library Association. His wife was Miss Mary A. Hurd, of Colesville, N. Y. They were married in 1868, and have one child, Charles E. French, who is now treasurer of the Amsterdam Savings Bank.

Whether or not Dr. French inherited from his father, Ira, or from his mother, Sally Harrington, the several qualities of which the writer finds him possessed, and which has done much to make him one of the leading citizens where he has so long resided, it is a fact, nevertheless, that he has these many qualifications, and we shall claim that the blood of the Harrington family has contributed to the production thereof to some extent.

Cynthia Harrington was married to Dr. Salphronius Henry French in 1834. Dr. French was a practicing physician at Lisle, N. Y., for many years.

Mary A. Harrington married Daniel Smith, and they had one son, Benjamin Smith, who was for many years a practicing attorney at law in the city of Binghamton, N. Y.

Lydia Harrington married a surveyor, living at Lisle, N. Y., by the name of John Ingerson.

William S. Harrington was for many years a well-known teacher in Chenango County, and in later years took up the occupation of farming. He married Maria Bradley, September 7th, 1843, who died at Greene, N. Y., in 1881. He afterwards, and in 1886, married Lucy M. Wheeler. By his first wife he had children: Eliza E. Harrington, Francis Harrington, Alice Harrington, and Eugene A. Harrington.

Eliza E. Harrington married a man by the name of Winter, and is now living in Ohio.

Francis Harrington married Hattie Squire of Chenango Forks, and they are now living at Cortland, N. Y. They have three children; to wit, Fred, Ray, and Mary.

Alice A. Harrington married E. M. Spencer, of Greene, N. Y. Their children are Herschell Dorsey Spencer, who now resides at Boston, Mass.; Vina Spencer Seymour, and Mildred Spencer, of Greene, N. Y.

Herschell Dorsey Spencer was born at Greene, N. Y., Aug. 5th, 1877, and is therefore thirty years old at the present time. He is a graduate of Hamilton College, holding at the time of his graduation the Elihu Root Fellowship; he also was a student at the University of Göttingen, in Germany, for about a year, and at Cornell University for a like period. For four years Mr. Spencer was connected with the Patent Department at Washington as an examiner, and now holds a lucrative position in the Patent Department of the United Shoe Machinery Company, at Boston. Mr. Spencer's name will be found grouped later on in this volume with other prominent members of the Harrington family who have been prominent in professional and in scientific research and have been shown to be graduates of the colleges and universities throughout the country.

On the seventh of September, 1904, being the twenty-eighth anniversary of the marriage of his father and mother, Mr. Spencer was married to Cornelia Emma Juliand, of Greene, N. Y. Mrs. Spencer comes from one of the oldest of the Chenango County families—her ancestors being among the early pioneers of that county, and at all times commanded the highest regard of the people of Greene Township, and, in fact, the whole county where they were known.

The Juliand Bank at Greene takes its name from one of Mrs. Spencer's ancestors, and it is to Charles W. Gray, the cashier of this bank, that the writer is indebted for much assistance in tracing out the different lines represented by the numerous Harringtons residing in Chenango County.

Eugene A. Harrington lives on his father's old homestead in the town of Greene, N. Y. He married Louise Copeland, of Greene, N. Y., and they have one daughter, Eva.

Francis B. Harrington married Frances Newell, of Parker, Broome County, N. Y.

George Nelson Harrington, who always resided upon the old Benjamin Harrington homestead on the Chenango River, married Maria A. Aldrich, November 5th, 1857. They had three children: Mary Harrington, Alfred Lynn Harrington, and George Ralph Harrington.

Mary Harrington married Ira D. Carley, of Lisle, N. Y., and they have three children: Dwight, Anna, and George.

Alfred Lynn Harrington, died at the age of twelve years, and George Ralph Harrington, a grandson of Benjamin Harrington, still resides on the old homestead. He married Elizabeth A. Beadle, of Smithville, N. Y., January 31st, 1900. They have four children.

Of the other children of Thomas Harrington, the only sons were (in addition to Benjamin) Solomon, Ezekiel, and Hezekiah. √

Solomon moved from Chenango County to Lyndon, Chautauqua County, N. Y.; from there to Ohio, and then to Logansport, Indiana, where he died without issue.

Hezekiah left Chenango County when quite young; went west and into Canada, and was never heard from afterwards. It is very probable that he met an untimely death.

The daughters were Thankful, Polly, and Ann.

Thankful Harrington married John Harrington, and she was the mother of Thomas W. Harrington, who now resides at Greene, N. Y.

Polly Harrington married Isaac Emery, the father of Stephen Emery. Stephen Emery is now an exceedingly well preserved man, seventy-six years of age, and resides at Logonier, Indiana.

Anna Harrington married William Straight. One of their children was named Anna Straight, and she in turn became the wife of Stephen Emery, hereinbefore referred to.

Ezekiel Harrington, son of Thomas, and the great grandfather of the writer, left Chenango County about 1804. He was born in 1779; married October 11th, 1808, Lydia Cotton, who was born February 10th, 1785; died November 20th, 1874, aged eighty-nine years, nine months, and ten days, and had children:

1. Daniel, born July 10th, 1810, died 1877.
2. Chauncey Harrington, born December 28th, 1812, and who died when twelve years old.
- 3 William, born March 9th, 1815.
4. Anna, born December 9th, 1817.
5. Ezekiel Burdette, born May 12th, 1820; died August 14, 1894.
6. Almeron, born December 25, 1822, and who is still living.
7. Azuba, born November 12th, 1825.
8. Lydia, born August 17th, 1828. Married Jared Tyler, died about 1852.

Daniel Harrington married Sarepta Hill, and had children :

Chauncey, who died at the age of four years.

Andrew Benjamin, born October 23d, 1845.

Olive, born ———, who married Amasa Buck.

Emeline, born August 19th, 1832, who married Joel B. Jewett, September 24th, 1848.

Alice and Lodica, both of whom died when they were young.

Andrew Benjamin Harrington is the sole surviving male member of his father's family. He has lived at Alexander, Genesee County, New York, for thirty-five years; has been one of the deputy sheriffs of the county for nearly twenty years, and is highly respected by all who know him. He married Adell Perkins September 13th, 1864. This marriage took place when young Andrew was but nineteen years old, and when he was home from the army on a sick furlough. After the marriage, he returned to his regiment and continued in active service in the War of the Rebellion up to the time of the surrender of Lee at Appomattox in April, 1865. They had three children:

Eugene W. Harrington (the compiler of these statistics) was born in the town of Bethany, Genesee County, on the 30th day of May, 1866. Having acquired a public school education, he began teaching school at the age of sixteen in the year 1882. He devoted several years to teaching and finally took up the study of law at the Law Department of the Buffalo University in 1891. In 1893 he graduated, and was admitted to the bar in 1896. Since then he has devoted his time to the practice of his profession and to literary work. He married June 25th, 1885, Clara L. Losee, who resided in the town of Darien, Genesee County, N. Y. Their only child living is Richard Losee Harrington, born November 15th, 1886. Their infant son, Benjamin Eugene, born June 27th, 1888, died August 17th, 1888.

Clara Harrington, the only daughter of Andrew B., born August 11th, 1870, and Daniel E. Harrington, born August 30th, 1873; married Flora M. Moulton, August 20th, 1893.

Children;

Ruth, born February 16th, 1899, and Wade Benjamin, born May 28th, 1907.

Upon coming to Genesee County, Ezekiel Harrington purchased of the Holland Land Company one hundred sixty acres of land in the town of Bethany. Prior to his death, he divided his land and property, giving to his sons Daniel and Burdette and his daughter Azuba (who married Cornelius Vader) the whole of the one hundred sixty acres. Born in 1779, he was sixty-eight years of age at the time of his death, which occurred in 1847. He was buried at the West Bethany Cemetery, together with his wife, their infant son Chauncy and their daughter Lydia.

Ezekiel Burdette Harrington married Angeline Wicks, and had Charles Harrington, Theresa Harrington, born June 19th, 1850; Joseph E., born May 24th, 1847, and Viola. He died August 14th, 1894.

Almeron Harrington (familiarily known as "Uncle Jack") moved to Ionia, Michigan, where he has always been engaged in farming. He is at this writing eighty-four years of age and active. He married Orpha Wicks.

Children of Almeron Harrington. There were five: Leonard, Ellen, Alfred O., Guy, and Ella.

Leonard participated in the Civil War, and was wounded in the last battle, just before General Lee surrendered. He died from the effects of his wound ten days later.

Ellen died at a very early age.

Guy married Emily Snyder. They had two children, Clay and Cleve, the former of whom died when a small child. They live at Ionia, Michigan, with Mr. Harrington's father, on the old homestead.

Ella married Daniel Sitz. They have one son, Jay.

Alfred O. married for his first wife, Susan Benedict. They had four children: Maud, Claude, Clair, and Bessie.

Claude Harrington served in the Cuban War, and after the war married Florence Bookner. They now reside at Seattle, Washington.

Maud died at a very early age.

Clair married Ida Eckert. They now live in Belding, Mich.

Bessie married Glenn Lee. They now live at Lowell, Mich., having one son, Russell G. Lee.

Alfred O. Harrington's second wife was Clara Clifford, and they have one child, a boy, Lee C. Harrington.

Azuba Harrington married Cornelius Vader. She died in the year 1901, and her husband still survives her at the age of eighty-nine years. For many years, and up to about the year 1895, they lived upon the old homestead on the Town Line Road between Bethany and Alexander. Their children are James Vader, who is married and lives at Alexander, N. Y.; William Vader, who is married and lives at Attica, N. Y.; Earl, who died about 1890; and Myrtle Vader, who married George Garrett, of Alexander, N. Y., where they now reside. Before her marriage Myrtle Vader taught school in Genesee County for several years, being possessed of much ability as a teacher.

Anna Harrington was married to Hiram Freeman, January 1st, 1835. Their children were William Delois Freeman, who died January 16th, 1852; Daniel Lafayette Freeman, who died October 20th, 1892; Lydia Freeman, who died at the age of thirteen; Almeron Freeman, and Lenora Hannah Freeman, born January 8th, 1845. Soon after the death of Hiram Freeman, Anna, his widow, married Chauncey H. Stone, in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, in 1845. Their children were Emily, Augusta, Nellie M., and Cora Adell. Chauncey H. Stone was born in Asburnham, Mass., December 21st, 1818.

Lenora Hannah Freeman was born January 8th, 1845; married James Willson Dickinson, born January 9th, 1846, who died November 16th, 1902.
Children:

Leon Dickinson, born July 26th, 1870.

Ellen Lenora, born in Milwaukee, Wis., September 24th, 1873; married Axel Soderling, October 5th, 1899. the ceremony being performed by Bishop Samuel Fellows.

By the second marriage of Anna Harrington to Chauncey Stone, there were born children, Emily, Augusta, Nellie, and Della, all of whom except Emily are now dead.

The only surviving daughter of Chauncey and Anna Stone is Augusta Lavina, who married Joseph E. Harrington, at Greenfield, Wisconsin, January 14th, 1873. Their only child is Clarence Elmo Harrington, born 1874; married in September, 1903, to Emily M. Thompson.

The only male representative of the family of Daniel, the son of Ezekiel, is Richard Losee Harrington, the son of the writer. Upon him will rest the responsibility of perpetuating our branch of this time-honored family, and may the guidance of a kind Providence aid him in the performance of the duties of his trusteeship.

- 29 ALBERT P. HARRINGTON married Flora E. Pease, and resides upon the old Harrington homestead at Orangeport, N. Y. They have children: HELEN, DOROTHY, and CARRIE.

As to the original ancestor, James Harrington, no authentic trace can be found. It is very probable that he was one of the three brothers spoken of by Thomas W. Harrington, as coming from Vermont. One settled in Chenango County; one in Otsego County, and it is very probable that the third one is the James of Columbia County. Members of the Massachusetts family were constantly drifting westward, and, no doubt, James Harrington was a descendant of one of the Massachusetts Harringtons.

BENJAMIN HARRINGTON, of Vermont, married Theodosia ———, about the year 1760. One of the children was a son, Gardner Harrington.

GARDNER HARRINGTON came from Pownal, Vermont, about the year 1798. He married Harriet Franklin, of Block Island. Gardner Harrington died at West Burlington, Otsego County, N. Y., in 1880. His wife died in 1863. They had eight children, to wit:

DANIEL, born May 1, 1810; died February 20, 1899.

NELSON, born April 7, 1812.

HANNAH, born July 2, 1814.

WILLIAM HENRY, born May 16, 1816.

ERASTUS, born January 10, 1818.

DAVID, born May 29, 1819.

BENJAMIN, born August 14, 1826.

THEODOSIA, born October 17, 1828.

DANIEL HARRINGTON, the oldest son, married Sally Ann Gregory, June 11, 1837. They had three children, to wit:

HENRY HARRISON, born October 17, 1838.

SARAH JANE, born May 26, 1844.

ALBERT ARVIN, who died at the age of five years.

SARAH JANE married William J. Mann, of New Berlin, N. Y., February 16, 1871. They have two sons, Frank M. and Walter, both living at Minneapolis, Minn.

SALLY ANN, the first wife of Daniel, died December 1, 1846, and he married for his second wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Marble, November 22, 1850. To them was born one child, a son, Charles Medbury Harrington, who now resides at Minneapolis, Minn. He married Grace Ross, of New Berlin, N. Y., September 12, 1877, and their only child, a daughter, was married October 11, 1905.

HENRY HARRISON HARRINGTON, born in 1838, died at New Berlin, N. Y., August 29, 1904. In early life he entered the legal profession, and, by reason of a marked ability, was elevated to a judgeship in the county where he was so well and favorably known. He was a man highly respected, and loved by all who knew him. He married October 30, 1867, Maria T. Bearsdley, of Pittsfield, Otsego County, N. Y. To them five children were born, four of whom died in infancy. Katherine Grace, born January 16, 1879, lives with Mrs. Harrington at New Berlin.

Of the family of Elijah Harrington, born January 11, 1774, the only surviving members are Benjamin, born January 5, 1803; Elisha, born July 4, 1806; Elvin, born February 3, 1808.

The children of David Harrington were William, Louis B., Delos E., Daniel, Lucy, Horatio, Maurice, and Martin. These last named children were the issue of David Harrington, born 1799, and Alma Card. They were married December 14, 1820. One of their sons, Daniel, born November 16, 1829, at Rockport, Ohio, married Amanda R. Bishop at Cherry Valley, Otsego County, N. Y. Their children were James Bishop Harrington, born 1857; Elida Alma, born 1863; Nettie A., born 1866, and Charles, born December 17, 1867.

Mr. James Bishop Harrington, the oldest of the children of Daniel, now lives in Buffalo, Erie County, N. Y.

One of the most interesting of the various ancient records examined by the writer in the compiling of this record is an old family bible, now belonging to Mr. Delos F. Harrington, of Buffalo, N. Y., which was given to him by his grandfather, James Harrington. In it are recorded births as far back as 1776, and, in fact, some of the writings are becoming somewhat obliterated by age.

This family of Harringtons starts with Spencer Harrington, who was born in Connecticut. The exact date of the birth of Spencer Harrington is unknown, but his brothers and sisters were Daniel, Stafford, Trueman, Stutley, Tryphena, and Tryphona.

James Harrington, son of Spencer, was born in Montgomery County in this State. He had a son Spencer, who was born at Akron, N. Y., in 1837, and his wife was born in the town of Virgin, Cortland County, N. Y., in 1849. Their son, Delos F. Harrington, born in 1871, now resides in Buffalo and is well known as a thorough business man, whose integrity is of the highest order. He is prominently identified with many of the fraternal societies of this city.

Otis Harrington, a brother of Spencer, was born in Akron, N. Y., in 1835. He has a son, Judson H., who married a daughter of Mr. Henry Newman, one of the old and highly respected families of the town of Akron, N. Y. Judson Harrington is a most genial and affable man in his everyday life, and highly respected by all who know him. He has been identified with the court service of the county clerk's office of Erie County for many years, and the duties of his office have always been performed with splendid satisfaction.

The following is a complete reproduction of the family record as found in the old Bible:

JAMES HARRINGTON was born June 20th in the Year of Our Lord 1766.

MARY HARRINGTON was born February 10th in the Year of Our Lord, 1767.

Sons and Daughters of Mary Harrington.

SABRINA HARRINGTON was born December 31st in the Year of Our Lord, 1802.

JEREMIAH HARRINGTON was born on the 15th day of October, 1804.

LUKE S. HARRINGTON was born December 20th in the Year of Our Lord, 1806.

CHAUNCEY W. HARRINGTON was born January 16, 1828.

DELOS W. HARRINGTON was born December 15, 1833.

AMY HARRINGTON was the daughter of James and Mary Harrington, and was born August 17, 1788.

RUTH HARRINGTON was born December 23d in the Year of Our Lord, 1790.

SPENCER HARRINGTON was born March 27th in the Year of Our Lord, 1792.

STEPHAN HARRINGTON was born March 28th in the Year of Our Lord, 1794.

TRIPHOSA and TRIPHENA HARRINGTON were born March 16th in the Year of Our Lord, 1793.

DANIEL HARRINGTON was born on the ninth day of March in the Year of Our Lord, 1798.

TRYPHONA HARRINGTON was born on the 27th day of November in the Year of Our Lord, 1801.

CHAUNCEY HARRINGTON was born January 16th, 1823.

SPENCER HARRINGTON was the son of John Harrington, and was born in the Year of Our Lord, 1792.

POLLY HARRINGTON, wife of Spencer Harrington was born September fifth in the Year of Our Lord, 1794.

JAMES HARRINGTON, son of Spencer and Polly Harrington was born March 16th, in the Year of Our Lord, 1814.

LEO E. HARRINGTON was born January 27, 1816.

HARIET HARRINGTON was born November 3, 1814.

HIRAM B. HARRINGTON was born September 3d in the Year of Our Lord, 1825.

PHILIP HARRINGTON was born November the twenty-first in the Year of Our Lord, 1811.

The following are the deaths recorded in the old Bible:

JAMES HARRINGTON died November 23d in the Year of Our Lord, 1813.

STEPHAN HARRINGTON died February 16th in the Year of Our Lord, 1813.

MARY HARRINGTON, wife of James Harrington, died June 22d in the Year of Our Lord, 1823.

AMY HARRINGTON MYERS died in Trumble County in the State of Ohio, in the Year of Our Lord, 1830.

TRYPHOSIA CLEVELAND died———.

SABRINA E. ———, died March 11, 1826.

Edwin Eugene Harrington

of Boston, Massachusetts

I should feel that I had been, indeed, derelict if I fail to make special mention of the splendid assistance given me by Edwin Eugene Harrington, of Boston, in the early stages of my investigations. This public-spirited son of a patriotic ancestor is so imbued with the spirit of colonial day patriotism that he is constantly making little journeys to the suburbs of Boston in search of new and interesting places connected with the Harrington genealogy.

He is a son of Andrew Jackson Harrington, a son of Luther Harrington, and grandson of Abraham Harrington, of Weston, Mass., who was born September 19, 1820. From Abraham Harrington, Edwin Eugene Harrington traces direct to the original ancestor, Robert Harrington, whose grave he frequently visits.

Luther Harrington married Achsah Viles, and their children were Clarence A., who married Nellie Hall, of Brookline, Mass., Edwin Eugene, who married Carrie A. Bird, of Brookline, Mass.; Elmer Ellsworth, who died very young; Ella, unmarried, and Emma, who is also dead.

The following is a complete record of this branch of the family from George Harrington, who married Hepzibah Fiske.

Children of George Harrington and wife Hepzibah:

- 1 HANNAH, born July 31, 1716; married William Whitney, of Weston.
- 2 ELISHA, born August 27, 1717; died young.
- 3 ABIGAIL, born October 4, 1718; married Benjamin Garfield.
- 4 JOHN, born December 14, 1719; married Sarah Barnard, of Waltham, Mass.
- 5 LYDIA, born February 12, 1720.
- 6 ELISHA, born November 19, 1722.
- 7 SETH, born June 22, 1724.
- 8 BENJAMIN, born September 29, 1725; married Elizabeth Pierce.
- 9 SARAH, born October 21, 1727.
- 10 SETH, born September 25, 1728.
- 11 MERCY, born February 7, 1730.
- 12 EUNICE, born October 30, 1733.
- 13 SUSANNA, born January 9, 1735.

JOHN HARRINGTON married Sarah Barnard. Children of John and Sarah:

- 1 JOHN, born February 28, 1742; married Mary Whitney, of Westboro, Mass.
- 2 SARAH, born November 20, 1744; married Captain Isaac Gleason, of Waltham, Mass.
- 3 WILLIAM, born February 6, 1745.
- 4 CALEB, born December 11, 1748, married Sarah Miller, of Westboro, Mass.

- 5 ABRAHAM, born 1751, married Anna Russell, who always claimed relationship to Lord John Russell, of England.
- 6 ISAAC, born January 21, 1753; died young.
- 7 ELIZABETH, born November 12, 1754; married Samuel Horne, of Southboro, Mass.
- 8 SUBMIT, born February 18, 1757, died unmarried at a great age.

ABRAHAM HARRINGTON married Anna Russell, November 5, 1776. Children:

- 1 ABEL, born February 13, 1777.
- 2 ANNA, born February 19, 1779; married Elijah Fiske, of Lincoln, Mass.
- 3 SALLY, born December 20, 1780; married Isaac Train, of Weston.
- 4 ENOCH, born February 19, 1782; unmarried.
- 5 ELIZABETH, born July 1, 1789; married Rev. Charles Train, of Framingham, Mass.
- 6 LUTHER, born October 12, 1781, married Achsah Viles, of Waltham, Mass.
- 7 ABRAHAM, born 1789, married, first, ——— Cushing; second, Harriet Valentine, of Hopkinton, Mass. Graduated from Harvard College Law School, Class of 1812, died 1828.
- 8 ISAAC, born 1791.
- 9 HEPZIBAH, born 1794; married Rev. Charles Train, widower of sister Elizabeth.
- 10 ELBRIDGE, born 1798, unmarried.
- 11 ENOCH, born 1803; married Eliza Nye, of Freeport, Maine.

LUTHER HARRINGTON married Achsah Viles, of Waltham, Mass. Children:

- 1 ISAAC, married Sarah P. Whittemore.
- 2 ANNA RUSSELL, born October 15, 1812; married Abram G. Adams.
- 3 ABEL, born August 19, 1819; married Sophia L. Scates.
- 4 LUTHER, born October 12, 1817; married Emily Hagar.
- 5 ANDREW JACKSON, born September 18, 1820; married Elmira F. Brown, of Weston.
- 6 JOHN QUINCY ADAMS, born November 8, 1822; married Abigail Jones, of Weston.
- 7 CHARLOTTE, born November 22, 1824; married Jonas Fiske.
- 8 HENRY CLAY, born November 2, 1826; married, first, Sarah E. Sanderson; second, Letitia Wiswall.
- 9 ABRAHAM, born 1829; unmarried; died young.
- 10 JAMES, born February 14, 1832; married Lydia J. Scates, of Milton. N. H.

JAMES HARRINGTON, son of Luther and Achsah; married Lydia Jenness Scates, April 30, 1854. Children:

- 1 CLARA LYMAN, born June 5, 1855. Teacher in Boston.
- 2 HELEN SOPHIA, born October 27, 1856; died July 31, 1881.
- 3 JAMES ARTHUR, born October 22, 1858; died October 23, 1889.
- 4 LYDIA JENNESS, died in infancy.
- 5 HORACE LINDSAY, died in infancy.

JAMES ARTHUR, son of James and Lydia Jenness, married Mary Evelyn Clark, of Berwick, Maine, October 27, 1886; died October 23, 1889. Child:

- 1 ARTHUR CLARK, born January 25, 1889. A student in Boston University.

A very interesting and authentic record of another branch of the Harrington family is furnished by Mrs. Tilley L. Harrington, of Smyrna, N. Y. Her letter is splendidly written, and the penmanship, taking into consideration the age of Mrs. Harrington, is truly remarkable. It refers to the family of Stephen Harrington, who had brothers, John, Benjamin, William, Charles, and Josiah, all of whom are descendants of William, who was born in Kingston, Rhode Island. The record is given complete, and we are greatly indebted to Mrs. Harrington for its accuracy.

WILLIAM HARRINGTON, born at Kingston, R. I., married Sarah Baker. Children:

- 1 STEPHEN, born at Kingston, R. I., May 8, 1778; died in Sherbourne, N. Y., November 26, 1859, aged 81 years; married Abigail Sheldon, born August 26, 1791; died August 11, 1860. Children:
- 1 ASA, born February 28, 1809; died May 15, 1885; married Lucy Wilcox, born September 14, 1816; died January 27, 1899. Had nine children, eight girls and one boy.
- 2 WILLIAM, born January 7, 1811; died December 11, 1873; married Harriet Brooks, five children.
Dr. DEVILLO W. HARRINGTON, GEORGE HARRINGTON, ARISTA, CORWIN, and———.
- 3 STEPHEN, born July 4, 1813; died October 17, 1889, aged 76; married first, Samantha Westgate; second, Laura Crandall. Seven children.

- 4 EZEKIEL, died December 4, 1897, aged 80 years; married first, Emily Alexander; second, Charlotte Wood. Five children.
- 5 ROXANA, born October 15, 1819; died November 24, 1899; married James Fairchild. Two children.
- 6 RUSSELL, born January 18, 1822; died December 7, 1897; married Rachell Brebee. No children.

- 5 JOSIAH, born in Rhode Island, June 15, 1787; died November 10, 1869; married Sarah Avery, May 6, 1794. Seven children.

Hon. Isaac R. Harrington

In the year 1841 the Mayor of the City of Buffalo was Hon. Isaac R. Harrington. He died on the 21st day of August, 1851, leaving a widow, Amanda Harrington, who died January 1, 1874, aged 83 years. They had five children, Edmund R. Harrington, Mrs. Juliet E. Harrington Pease, Charles L. Harrington, Donald U., and Marian.

The records of the Buffalo Historical Society also show that Charles L. Harrington, eldest son of Isaac, died in Buffalo, April 10, 1866, aged 53 years. Donald U., second son of Isaac, died November 7, 1851, aged 31 years. Marian, daughter of Isaac, died in Detroit, November 6, 1843, aged 20. The family of Isaac Harrington attended the Central Presbyterian Church, and lived at No. 11 Court Street, where Mr. Harrington died.

The writer has been unable to ascertain definitely the early ancestry of Isaac R. Harrington, but has been informed indirectly that his ancestors came from Vermont. It may be that he is of the family of Isaac Harrington, of Shrewsbury, Mass., who married Hannah, the daughter of Jacob Whipple, of Grafton, Mass. It is also probable that he was the son of Abraham Harrington, born in 1791.

The Buffalo Courier of August 21, 1851, says: "Mr. Harrington was one of the old citizens of Buffalo, holding the office of Mayor for the term of one year. His administration was marked by firmness and consistency. In private life Mr. Harrington was a kind and indulgent father, a charitable man, and a firm friend, and his loss will be felt by a large circle of acquaintances." The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser of the same date pays the following tribute: "Mr. Harrington was a man of no ordinary ability. He possessed great executive talent, and has exercised no inconsiderable influence here in public affairs for the last twenty years."

Andrew Murray Harrington

The above-named Andrew Murray Harrington died at Jamestown, N. Y., Thursday, May 30, 1901. He was the second son of Noah Harrington and Keziah Dix, of Vermont. He was a man deeply interested in public affairs, possessing a most patriotic spirit at all times, and was highly respected by the people of Jamestown, where he lived for many years. He left him surviving his wife, Catherine, and three daughters: Mrs. Alexis Crane, Isabelle Harrington, and Sara Gertrude Harrington, all of whom live in Jamestown.

Sara Gertrude Harrington, daughter of Andrew Murray Harrington, residing with her mother, No. 311 West Fourth Street, Jamestown, N. Y., has shown a considerable talent for literary work, and has written many clever stories for periodicals of the present day.

The following is a record of the family of Andrew Murray Harrington, direct to the original ancestor, Robert Harrington, of Watertown, Mass.

ROBERT HARRINGTON, of Watertown, Mass., married Susanna, daughter of John George, October 1, 1649.

THOMAS HARRINGTON, of Watertown, Mass., married Rebecca, widow of John White, and daughter of Joseph Bemis, April 1, 1686.

EBENEZER HARRINGTON, of Framingham, Mass., married Hepzebah Cloyes February 3, 1707-8.

EBENEZER HARRINGTON, born March 8, 1716-7.

ISAAC HARRINGTON was a grandson of Ebenezer Harrington, born March 8, 1716-7. He was a resident of Livingston County, N. Y., and was born February 12, 1766.

NOAH WHEATON HARRINGTON, born January 15, 1803; married Keziah Dix in 1826; died November 18, 1884.

ANDREW MURRAY HARRINGTON, born May 8, 1829; died May 29, 1901; married Catherine Virginia Whitaker, May 23, 1854, at Nunda, Livingston County, N. Y.

Joseph E. Harrington, residing at 107 Second Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is in all probability a descendent of that branch of the family represented by Joseph Harrington, of Lexington, who married Lucy Russell, daughter of Philip Russell, March 27, 1792. A son of Joseph and Lucy married, and moved to Baltimore, and there had several children, who are now located at Baltimore, Washington, and other cities in that locality.

As the work of compiling this record of genealogical facts draws to a close a feeling of sincere regret steals over me that the task is so soon done.

So pleasant has it been, and so very many interesting things have come to light that instead of work, it has seemed but a playspell.

Thorough as I have tried to be, I fully realize the imperfection that exists—and must, of necessity, in a work of this character;—and I only ask those who come into possession of this little volume that they may be charitable in their criticism, and value it for the aid it may be to them in their investigations along this line, by reason of the data given of the Harrington family in the earlier days.

The record discloses many interesting facts, bearing upon the natural characteristics of this family, of which we, as members, may well feel proud.

First: As patriots in defense of the proposition "That these Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent," no family can show a record more honorable. There were eleven of them with Captain Parker, at Lexington, and of the first blood shed for the cause of liberty, that of Jonathan and Caleb Harrington was mingled with their compatriots on that memorable 19th of April, 1775.

Second: When the security of the nation founded by their forefathers was endangered by the curse of slavery, again was our particular branch of this time-honored family represented in the field of action. The records of the Army and Navy show that at Gettysburg, Cold Harbor, The Wilderness, with Sherman on his march to the sea, and at the surrender of Lee before Richmond, there were stalwart sons of the Harrington name emulating the example of patriotism set by their forefathers in the days of 1776.

Third: In times of peace, we find them as lawyers, doctors, teachers, ministers of the gospel, artisans, and in the agricultural pursuits, performing the duties of citizenship, having a righteous regard for the religion of justice between man and man, living lives of honor and integrity as suggested by a strict construction of the Golden Rule.

May those who come after do as well. May they share with the writer a feeling of responsibility for a perpetuation of the Harrington name upon the high plane of honor where we now find it to be, and may the history of the generations yet to come write the name of "Harrington" as having been true to themselves and to their honorable and patriotic inheritance.

Other Members

HARRINGTON, CHARLES, Earl of, soldier, born in England, March 17, 1753; died in Brighton, England, September 5, 1829. He entered the footguards in 1769, when he was Lord Petersham. In February, 1776, as a captain in the 29th Regiment, he arrived at Quebec, and served in all the operations of General Burgoyne until the surrender at Saratoga, where he was that officer's aide, and carried his dispatches to England. He succeeded to the earldom in 1779, afterwards served in the West Indies, and was promoted general in 1803. He was captain, governor, and constable of Windsor Castle.

HARRINGTON, EBENEZER BURKE, lawyer, born near Lyons, Wayne County, N. Y., in 1813; died in Detroit, Mich., in 1844. He was educated in New York City, and in 1830-'31 served as reporter of the Senate of that State. He began the study of law in 1832, and compiled a digest of English and American equity cases with the aid of Oliver L. Barbour (Saratoga, 1837). In June of the latter year he was admitted to the bar. In 1837 he removed from Saratoga, N. Y., to Michigan, where he was employed with E. J. Roberts in arranging and indexing the revised statutes of that State.

He was elected a member of the State Senate in 1839, and acted as State reporter from that year until his death. He is the author of "Harrington's Chancery Reports" (Detroit 1841).

HARRINGTON, JOSEPH, JR., clergyman, born in Roxbury, Mass., February 21, 1813; died in San Francisco, Cal., November 2, 1852. He was graduated at Harvard in 1833, and became principal of the academy at East Greenwich, R. I., but at the end of six months took charge of the Haws School at South Boston, where he remained for five years. While teaching he studied theology, and in the autumn of 1839 was sent as a missionary to Chicago, Ill., by the American Unitarian Association. After his ordination as an evangelist in Boston, in September, 1840, Mr. Harrington returned to the West, and was the first to introduce the doctrines of his denomination in Milwaukee and other places. He held a pastorate in Hartford, Conn., from 1846 till 1852, when enfeebled health induced him to accept a call from San Francisco. He sailed from New York in July of that year, but in crossing the isthmus caught the Panama fever, which resulted fatally. After his death appeared a volume of his sermons, with a memoir by William Whiting (Boston, 1854).

HARRINGTON, MARK WILROD, astronomer, born in Sycamore, Ill., August 18, 1848. He was graduated at the University of Michigan in 1868, and has since lectured on astronomy in Oberlin College, and in the Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge. For a year he was connected with the Chinese foreign office in Peking, and he also spent a year in Alaska. Subsequently he became professor of astronomy in the University of Michigan, which chair he now holds, being also director of the observatory. He is a fellow of the American Association for the advancement of science, and he is a member of other societies. In 1884 he established the "American Meteorological Journal," of which he in 1887 was chief editor.

HARRINGTON, SAMUEL MAXWELL, jurist, born in Dover, Del., February 5, 1803; died in Philadelphia, November 28, 1865. He was graduated at Washington College, Charlestown, Md., in 1823, with the first honors of his class, studied law, and was admitted to the bar. He was appointed Secretary of State of Delaware, in 1829, and again in 1830, and in the following year he was selected to fill a vacancy on the bench of the State Supreme Court, and became its chief justice, holding the office until the court was united with the Superior Court. In the latter he sat as associate justice until 1855, when he was again made chief justice. In 1857 he succeeded to the chancellorship, the highest judicial office in the State. In 1849 he had been placed at the head of a commission to revise and codify the laws, and received a vote of thanks from the Legislature. During the Civil War Judge Harrington was a staunch supporter of the government, and did much to strengthen the administration of Mr. Lincoln. In 1854 he received the honorary degree of LL. D. He is the author of "Reports of the Supreme Court of Delaware" (3 vols., Dover, 1837-44).

HARRINGTON, TIMOTHY, clergyman, born in Waltham, Mass., in 1715; died in Lancaster, Worcester County, Mass., December 18, 1795. He was graduated at Harvard in 1737, studied theology, and settled in 1741 as pastor of a Congregational church, in Lower Ashuelot, now Swanzey, N. H., whence he was driven by the Indians in 1747. The following year he was called to the church at Lancaster, where he remained until his death. It was related of him that having been in the habit, before the Revolutionary War, of praying in his pulpit for the health of "our excellent King George," he so far forgot himself on one occasion, after the Declaration of Independence, as to lapse into the old form, but immediately added, "O Lord! I mean George Washington." He was one of the most pure and gentle-hearted among New England pastors, a scholar of remarkable attainments, and possessed of warm affections. He was accused of being a loyalist, and was undoubtedly opposed to the Whigs, being of the opinion that separation would ruin the colonies. In 1777 a list of proscribed persons was posted up in town meeting, to which his name had been added on motion of someone who disliked him. He thereupon arose, "his hairs touched with silver, and his benignant features kindled into a glow of honest indignation," and baring his bosom before his people, exclaimed, "Strike, strike, here with your daggers! I am a true friend of my country."

I.

HARRINGTON, BARON.

By writ of summons, December 30, 1324.

18 jr. Edward II. Extinct 1554.

Lineage:

The family of Harrington derived their surname from Haverington in the County of Cumberland, a lordship of which they were very anciently possessed, but from the time of Edward I., their chief seat was at Aldringham in Lancashire, which manor was acquired by—

I. ROBERT DE HARRINGTON, with his wife Agnes, sister and heir of William de Cancefield, Lord of Aldringham. To this Robert succeeded his son.

II. JOHN DE HARRINGTON, who in the 34th Edward I., amongst the rest of those stout young soldiers who were then to attend the king into Scotland, received the honor of knighthood, with Prince Edward, by bathing and other sacred ceremonies.

In the 12th year of Edward II. he had a license to impark 600 acres of woodmoor and marsh within the precincts of his lordship of Aldringham. Summoned to Parliament as a baron December 30, 1324 to 1345. Married Margaret, daughter of Sir Richard Barlington, and had an only son,—

III. ROBERT, who died in the lifetime of his father, leaving issue by wife Elizabeth, daughter of John de Multon, of Egremond:

- 1 JOHN, successor to grandfather.
- 2 ROBERT, from whom descended the Lords Harrington, of Exton.
- 3 SIMON, ancestor of the Harringtons of Bishton.

LORD HARRINGTON died in 1347, and was succeeded by his grandson,—

IV. JOHN HARRINGTON, second baron, summoned to Parliament February 14, 1348, to March 10, 1349; died 1363. Succeeded by son then in minority.

V. ROBERT HARRINGTON, third baron, summoned to Parliament August 4, 1377, during remainder of his life. Received honor of knighthood at coronation of Richard I., and was the same year employed in his Majesty's service at Calais. Married Isabel, daughter of Sir Nigel Lorying, K. G., and had issue:

- 1 JOHN (Sir), his successor.
- 2 WILLIAM, successor to his brother. He died in 1405, and was succeeded by his oldest son,—

VI. SIR JOHN HARRINGTON, fourth baron, summoned to Parliament under the misnomer of Robert, from his succession to September 3, 1417. This nobleman was in the expedition made into France in the 3d Henry V., and the next year, being retained by indenture to serve the king in those wars, he received £295 in hand toward his wages upon that account. But soon after, purposing to travel in foreign parts, he declared his testament June 8, 1417, bequeathing his body to be buried wherever he should happen to die, and to Elizabeth, his wife, one half of all his silver vessels; after which he survived only a year, for the probate of that will bears the date of April 27, 1418. Leaving no issue, he was succeeded by his brother,—

VII. SIR WILLIAM HARRINGTON, fifth baron, summoned to Parliament February 6, 1421, to September 6, 1439. Served as sheriff of Yorkshire, and was governor of the castle in the 10th Henry V. He was afterwards engaged in the wars of France in the reign of Henry V. and VI. Married Margaret, the sister of Thomas, son of Sir Robert Nevill, of Thornby, Knt., and had an only child,—

VIII. ELIZABETH, who died in her father's lifetime, married to William, Lord Bonville, and had a son,—

IX. WILLIAM BONVILLE, who in her right, became Lord Harrington; died in the lifetime of his father, leaving a daughter,—

X. CICELY BONVILLE, who married first, Thomas Grey, Marquis of Dorset, and second, Henry Stafford, Earl of Wiltshire. Lord Harrington died in 1547, leaving his grandson, William Bonville, above mentioned, his heir.

Cicely Bonville, the daughter and heiress of Sir William, married first Thomas Grey, and she conveyed the baronies of Bonville and Harrington to the noble house of Grey, where they continued until the attainder in 1554 of Henry Grey, Duke of Suffolk, when those dignities along with his grace's other honors became extinct.

Reign of Mary—"Bloody Mary." Henry Grey was father of Lady Jane Grey.

Henry Grey, Duke of Suffolk, was beheaded October 23, 1554, and, being attainted, all his honors became forfeited.

II.

BARON HARRINGTON, of Exton, in the County of Rutland. By letters patent, dated July 21, 1603. Extinct, 1614.

Lineage:

This branch of the ancient Harrington family, barons by merit, springing from

I. SIR ROBERT HARRINGTON, grandson of Sir John de Harrington, who had been summoned to Parliament in the Reign of Edward II., and second son of Robert de Harrington and his wife, Elizabeth, daughter of and co-heir of John de Melton, of Egremond. This Robert left a son,—

II. JOHN DE HARRINGTON, who married Agnes, daughter of Lawrence Flete, Esq., of Flete, in the County of Lincoln, and, dying in 1421, was succeeded by his son,—

III. ROBERT DE HARRINGTON, who wedded one of the daughters of John de la Laund, and was succeeded by his son,—

IV. JOHN DE HARRINGTON, who, having married Catherine, daughter of Sir Thomas Colepeper, acquired thereby the manor of Exton, in Rutlandshire, and fixed his residence there. He was succeeded by his son,—

V. ROBERT HARRINGTON, Esq., of Exton, who served as sheriff for the county of Rutland in 1492-1498. He married Maud, daughter of Sir John Prisett, Knt., Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas, and died in 1501; was succeeded by his son,—

VI. SIR JOHN HARRINGTON, Knt., of Exton, whose son,—

VII. SIR JOHN HARRINGTON, Knt., married Elizabeth, daughter of Robert Moton, of Peckleton, in the county of Leicester. This Sir John was treasurer of the army at Boulogne, to Henry VIII. He was succeeded by his son,—

VIII. SIR JAMES HARRINGTON, Knt., of Exton, who married Lucy, daughter of Sir William Sidney, of Penshurst, and sister of Sir Philip Sidney, K. G., by whom he had three sons,—

- 1 JOHN, his successor.
- 2 HENRY (Sir).
- 3 JAMES, of Redlington, in the county of Rutland, who was created a baronet June 29, 1611, a dignity now enjoyed by his descendant Sir Edward Harrington, Bart., of Redlington. Sir James died in 1592, and was succeeded by his eldest son,—

IX. SIR JOHN HARRINGTON, Knt., who was elevated to the peerage by letters patent dated July 31, 1603, as Baron Harrington, of Exton. His lordship was tutor to the Princess Elizabeth, daughter of King James I., until her marriage to the Palatine of Bohemia, when he attended her royal highness to Germany. He married Annie, only daughter and heiress of Robert Kelway, Esq., surveyor of the Court of Wards and Liveries, and had issue,—

- 1 JOHN, his successor.
- 2 LUCIE, married to Edward Russell, third Earl of Bedford.
- 3 FRANCES, married to Sir Robert Chichester, K. B., and had an only daughter, Annie, married to Robert, Lord Kinlosse, by whom she was mother of Robert, Earl of Aylesbury. His lordship died in 1613, and was succeeded by his son,—

X. JOHN HARRINGTON, second baron, at whose decease, in 1614, the Barony of Harrington, of Exton, became extinct, and his lordship's estates devolved upon his sisters, Lucy, Countess of Bedford, and Frances, Lady Chichester.

Eugene W. Harrington

We take pleasure in referring to that well-known lawyer and gentleman, Mr. Eugene W. Harrington, whose professional offices are located in the Brisbane Building on Main Street. Mr. Harrington is no stranger to the readers of the Catholic Union and Times or the members of the Buffalo diocese, as he has been a resident of this city for many years, and has been conspicuous, not only as a lawyer and gentleman, but in public life. Mr. Harrington is reputed to be one of the most scholarly and erudite attorneys practicing at the Erie County bar. He is a trial lawyer of note and success and has more than local fame as a pleasing orator, an art in which he has abundant opportunity to perfect himself. He is frequently called upon to make addresses in public gatherings, and last Wednesday spoke before the Boot and Shoe Club of Boston on "The Electrical Development of the Niagara Frontier." It is gratifying to note that Buffalo men are singled out on such occasions.
